

Wartime Defense Measures

Discussed In House Today As Appropriation Bills Introduced

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 18.—(P)—Appropriation bills providing $1,142,446 for the state's wartime defense set-up during the first six months of this year were introduced in the House today by Appropriations Chairman C. P. Junge (R) Benton county.

He proposed $962,990 for the national guard and $179,456 for the council of defense—which he said represented one fourth of the amounts recommended by Gov. Forrest C. Donnell for the full 1943-44 biennium.

Junge said, however, that he thought the recommendations were too high and he anticipated attempts to reduce the figures in committee hearings which will be held soon on the measures.

Last biennium, the national guard spent only 463,063—half the amount asked for just six months of this year. The defense council spent only $50,000 in all of 1941-42.

Two-Year Allotments

Donnell's tentative budget calls for two-year allotments of $3,869,960 for the national guard and $717,824 for the council of defense.

The defense allotments were the last of the temporary appropriations. They brought the total proposed six months allotments from general revenue to about $17,000,000, Junge said.

That, Junge said, would keep the legislature well within the anticipated revenue if the same ratio were maintained in the full two-year grants. "But I expect some cuts to be applied later in the final measures," he added.

An Election Bill

Rep. Ralph Erdwin (R) Johnson county, introduced a bill which would provide the same method of voting in primaries as in general elections—substituting an "X" mark for the present scratching method used on primary ballots. He unsuccessfully sponsored a similar bill in the 1941 session.

Damage By Fire To Apartment

Four runs made by the fire companies Sunday and one this morning bring the total number of runs for January to twenty-five. About $250 damage resulted to the residence and contents of an apartment, 1414 East Fourth street, at 4:02 o'clock Sunday morning, by fire which started in a box containing hot ashes. The fire had gained considerable headway when discovered.

The apartment building is occupied by C. L. Vaughn and Mary Roberts.

A defective flue at the shoe shop of M. L. Gatchett, 115 West Third street, caused about $35 damages at 10:25 o'clock this morning.

Other runs made on Sunday by the fire companies were: Burning flue at the residence of Elizabeth Rollins, 120 East Pettis street at 10:28 o'clock in the morning; burning flue at the residence of Harley Vaughn, 821 West Third street, at 12:40 o'clock in the afternoon; burning flue at the residence of Ed Bailey, 601 West Sixth street, at 10 o'clock Sunday night.

Editor And Publisher Dies

Charles Houston Whitaker II, 80 years old, editor and publisher of the Clinton Daily Democrat and the Henry County Democrat for the past fifty years, died at 6:12 o'clock Sunday night at St. Luke's hospital, Kansas City. He was taken to the hospital after suffering a heart attack Saturday at his home in Clinton.

He had remained at the office until the Saturday edition had gone to press. He suffered a heart attack about 4:30 at his home. Members of the family suggested that he go to the hospital, but he said he would have to be at the office this morning to work on the weekly edition.

Mr. Whitaker became editor and publisher of the two papers in 1893, following the death of his father.

He is survived by his son and associate publisher, Charles H. Whitaker III, of Clinton, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles T. Hoskins, 3406 East Thirty-fifth street, Kansas City, and Mrs. Otto Gerhardt of Clinton. His wife died ten years ago.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home with Rev. Linus Eakers, pastor of the Methodist church, to officiate.

Miners Refuse To End 19 Day Old Walkout

Await Possible Seizure Of Mines By Government

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Jan. 18.—(P)—The wildcat work stoppage in Pennsylvania's anthracite field spread today to the United Mine Workers District 7 for the second time, forcing two collieries to close and adding an additional 2,300 men to approximately 12,500 others in District 1 who continued their 19-day-old strike despite a second War Labor Board ultimatum.

However the District 1 situation appeared to be improving. Approximately 9,000 men were working there today and a back-to-work vote was being taken at the four largest mines still idle. Michael Kosik, district UMW president, predicted that if the four resume operations, others in the district will follow.

In District 7 (Hazleton area) 1,400 employees at the Hazleton shaft colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal company and 900 workers at the Edison Anthracite company's Nesquehoning operation left their jobs in defiance of even their local leaders, some of whom stood at the mine entrance and urged the men to enter.

Concerned With Wages

The Hazleton and Nesquehoning workers are concerned primarily with a demand for a $2-a-day wage increase. The District 1 (Wilkes-Barre and Scranton) strikers are demanding, in addition to a wage increase, that the UMW rescind a 50-cent-a-month increase in union dues.

The Hazleton workers walked out once before but returned pending a War Labor Board hearing at Washington last week which resulted in a second WLB demand for an end to the strike.

Talk On Dairy, Poultry Products

The regular Rotary meeting was held at the Bothwell hotel today at noon with Nolan Bricken presiding in the absence of the president, Frank W. Bryant, who is out of the city.

Lawrence Barnett acted as program chairman in the place of J. U. Morris, and introduced the speaker, N. E. Randall, manager of the Swift and Co., local plant. Mr. Randall made a classification talk on poultry and dairy products on a large scale, telling how it fits in with the present war program. Mr. Randall made a demonstration of this great industry in a very thorough manner told of the work they were accomplishing in the local plant.

Lindsey Edwards, local U. S. Postal Inspector was a guest of Oscar DeWolf.

Forrest Drake, new principal of the Smith-Cotton high school was introduced as the "Baby Rotarian."

The club expressed regret at losing Ralph Guenther, club song leader, who is leaving for military service, and appreciation of the fine work he had done. They wished him the best of luck.

There will be a fireside meeting next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lamm, 1303 South Osage avenue.

"Dollars" Missing After Visit Of Intruders

Curly's Hamburger Inn, 109 South Grand avenue, was entered by intruders shortly before 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning. A silver dollar and a counterfeit dollar were taken from the place. Nothing else was found to be missing.

Police, in making their rounds of the outlying district business houses, found a rear door glass broken out. Entrance was gained through this door.

Promotion For A. G. Salisbury

Given Rank Of Lieutenant-Colonel For Christmas

Major A. G. Salisbury, with the U. S. Army Air Forces somewhere in Egypt, is now a Lieutenant-Colonel, according to a letter just received by his mother, Mrs. Faye Salisbury, 312 East Third street. The promotion, the 26-year-old flier reports, was a "Christmas present from the General."

In the letter, written to his mother and sister, Miss Maxine Salisbury, Lieut.-Col. Salisbury (familiarily known here as "Buck") casually mentions being shot down.

His letter follows:

"January 4
"Dear Sis and Mother:
"Thanks a lot for the letters — they helped out tremendously.

"Had a good Christmas but there wasn't much snow.

"Had a very nice Christmas present from the General. Was promoted to Lieut.-Col. and placed in command of four fighter squadrons. It was a big job running one fighter squadron in a combat zone so you can realize what a job I have on my hands now. It's a good break though.

"We lost eight pilots in the last push which made it pretty tough. I was shot down myself while leading the squadron in a strafing mission against a Hun column. I managed to come down a mile and a half on my side of the lines though.

"Am feeling great and getting along o. k. We've still got a long job ahead of us but we've also got a pretty good job behind us.

"It's been rainy and cold here for the past few days. Sounds funny for this part of the world doesn't it? Nevertheless it's true.

"Please write again soon. Give my regards to everyone and tell them we're still giving Rommel hell over here.

Love as always,
"Buck."

"Juke Box Rally" At Officers Club

A large crowd of officers, their wives and civilian friends enjoyed a "juke box rally," the first of a series of informal dances, at the Officers club at the Sedalia Army Air Field Saturday night. A number of Sedalians were among the guests. A buffet supper was served at the officers' mess preceding the dance.

Regulate Price Of Sweet Milk

Revised By Order Of OPA Regional Office

A revision of the ceiling price of fluid sweet milk sold at wholesale and retail for Pettis county has been ordered in a new regulation issued by the southwest regional OPA office, J. E. Smith, chairman of the local War Price Rationing board, announced today.

The ceiling price set for the city of Sedalia will differ from the ceiling price set for the rest of the county under the OPA order, Mr. Smith explained.

The following ceiling prices for wholesalers and retailers of milk were set by OPA for the city of Sedalia:

Container	Wholesale	Retail
gallon	44c	48c
1/2 gallon	23c	25c
quart	11 1/2c	13c
pint	5 3/4c	6 1/2c
1/2 quart	4c	—
1/2 pint	4 1/4c	—

The following maximum prices will prevail in the rest of the county:

Container	Wholesale	Retail
gallon	40c	44c
1/2 gallon	21c	23c
quart	10 1/2c	12c
pint	5 1/4c	6c
1/2 quart	3 3/4c	—
1/2 pint	3c	—

Price Revisions

The price revisions in Pettis county are part of a regionwide program designed to restore balance in the supply of milk to different communities and for different uses.

Culminating two month's work, regional OPA officials in Dallas ordered the new price adjustment to replace the general maximum price regulation, which set the ceiling price of milk for retailers and wholesalers at the highest price each individual seller charged in March 1942.

Judge Smith pointed out that the freezing of prices at the March highest level, in many instances, caused diversion of milk from one area with a low ceiling to an area with a high ceiling and also caused diversion of milk from normal consumption channels to manufacturing channels.

The new regulation, Judge Smith explained, only sets a maximum price which can be charged for milk in this county—wholesalers and retailers can sell at any price below the ceiling. Petitions for adjustment can be made to the Office of Price Administration at Dallas, Tex., Mr. Smith said.

Under the maximum price regulation which revises the ceiling prices of sweet milk, every county, parish, city and town in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, and Kansas are placed in either Class 1, 2 or 3 in Zone 1 or in Class 1, 2 or 3 in Zone 2. Pettis county is in Class 3, Zone 2. The city of Sedalia is in Class 2, Zone 2.

Japs Launch New Bout For Guadalcanal

Campaign Cost Them Dearly In Men, Equipment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(P)—American bombers heavily pounded the enemy-held Shortland island area of the Solomons Friday night and Saturday, the navy announced today, while ground forces on Guadalcanal accounted for 150 more Japanese troops killed and a number of prisoners as mopping up operations continued.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(P)—Renewed Japanese attempts to dislodge American forces from Guadalcanal island in the Solomons, part of a campaign which already has cost the Nipponese dearly in planes, ships and men, appeared in the offing today.

Three air attacks against American positions, reported by the navy over the weekend, indicated the enemy is launching a new bout for Guadalcanal, operating from the Japanese base on Munda, only 180 miles to the northwest.

Some casualties and "minor material damage" were inflicted by Japanese bombers last Friday, the navy reported yesterday in telling of the third enemy raid in two days on Guadalcanal. The previous day the Japs sent two air assaults against American positions, the first multi-plane attacks on Guadalcanal since last November.

Yesterday's communique said the latest American blow at Munda, on New Georgia island, occurred Saturday and that "a number of hits were scored in the target area."

Munda Probably Base

The communique telling of the Japanese raids of Thursday and Friday did not mention Munda as the Japanese taking-off place, but a naval spokesman said the enemy probably used that base inasmuch as it was closer to Guadalcanal than any other enemy air fields in the Solomons.

Two days ago the navy reported United States planes attacked one group of five and another contingent of nine destroyers which presumably were attempting to land supplies and troops for the Japanese-held positions on Guadalcanal. Both groups were damaged, but whether they accomplished their mission was not disclosed.

Last Thursday the navy said American torpedo boats had intercepted a group of Japanese destroyers in waters near Guadalcanal. The navy report did not say whether the enemy ships were successful in reinforcing or supplying Japanese troops on Guadalcanal.

Follow Up Tactics

Japanese tactics in the past have been to follow-up heavy air-raids and destroyer actions with transport forces. These attempts have brought some of the fiercest sea and air fights of the Pacific war.

American sailors and marines landed on Guadalcanal August 8. Japanese efforts to out them so far have cost the Nipponese 765 planes lost in combat action, 57 ships sunk, six probably sunk and 93 damaged.

American forces have lost a total of 28 ships sunk in the Solomons campaign. An unreported number of vessels have been damaged. Air losses have never been compiled because so far as is known they have never been fully reported.

Against Increased Expenditures

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 18.—(P)—The Kansas City Real Estate board sent to Gov. Forrest Donnell today a vigorous protest against a proposed increase in the general fund expenditures.

"At a time when all our nation's efforts are being concentrated toward winning the war, necessitating a huge increase in federal income taxes, it is unreasonable that Missouri's peace-time expenditures should be increased by 18 million dollars for non-war purposes," said the board's letter.

Copies went to the county's delegation in the legislature and to other real estate boards over the state.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Red army was reported pouring across the Donets river a few miles east of Kamensk today in a southward drive on Rostov 85 miles away which was closely coordinated with a multi-headed Soviet assault grinding at all Germany's summer gains in south Russia and approaching within 118 miles of Kharkov, great steel center of the Ukraine.

A special communique and the regular midnight communique as recorded from Moscow broadcasts by the Soviet monitor told of mighty strides taken by the Russian troops on a front which enveloped southern Russia from Voronezh to the Caucasus foothills.

Millerovo, by-passed last month on the Russian drive along the Moscow-Rostov railway, was reported recaptured. The special communique announcing its fall said "several garrisons" of the city were annihilated by Russian troops.

Several dozen communities in the bend of the north Donets were reported captured, including several large places, one of which was Kalitvinskaya, directly on the river.

Cross River

A Moscow broadcast said the river had been crossed, presumably in the neighborhood of Kalitvinskaya, only 12 miles east of Kamensk, like Millerovo an important railway center on the Moscow-Rostov line. Kamensk itself is threatened from three sides.

The broadcast said the Germans fought bitterly to hold their positions in the Donets bend. The Russian advance into this region threatens the flank of the German troops trying to hold off Soviet (Please turn to page 4 column 2)

One Degree Above Zero This A. M.

Sedalians and Pettis countians experienced extremely cold weather Sunday and today, with a drop in temperature Sunday from 14 degrees above zero at 7 o'clock in the morning to 8 degrees above zero at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. There were light snow flurries during the day, which changed to a light continuous snow Sunday night.

At 7 o'clock this morning the thermometer reading at the official weather bureau for the county, the State Fair Floral Company, on highway 65, was 1 degree above zero. It had gone up to 12 degrees above zero at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18.—(P)—The most severe cold wave of the winter brought sub-zero temperatures to northwest Missouri today and much colder weather to the rest of the state, causing residents to draw heavily on precious fuel supplies.

Still lower temperatures were predicted for tonight.

The coldest spot this morning was Tarkio, where the mercury tumbled to eight degrees below zero. It was five below at St. Joseph, three below at Kansas City and Knoxville, and one below at Kirksville.

Light to moderately heavy snow fell over much of the state.

The mercury dipped to 5 above at Columbia, 7 about at Jefferson City 11 above at Springfield, and 16 at St. Louis. A low of five to eight degrees below was forecast for Kansas City tonight and 8 to 12 above for the St. Louis area.

ATLANTA, Jan. 18.—(P)—At least 12 persons were killed, and 83 others injured as week-end tornado winds battered Georgia and Alabama at widely separated points.

Eleven dead were reported in Georgia, four of them in one family killed when wind destroyed a farm home in the Williams section of Pike county. Five Pike county Negroes also were reported killed near Hollonville.

Montgomery And Forces Taking Shortest Route

CAIRO, Jan. 18.—(P)—The British Eighth Army, sweeping across Libya after cracking Field Marshal Rommel's defenses at Buerat El Hsun, was reported within 100 miles of Tripoli today in a thrust, apparently designed to bypass Misurata and other points along the African coast.

A communique from Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's headquarters announcing the vanguard of the British Eighth Army had reached the vicinity of Beni Ulid indicated his forces were taking a straight line across the Tripolitanian "hump" in an effort to get to Tripoli by the shortest possible route.

Missouri Girl Eulogized In Best Seller

Nurse On Bataan Identified By Sister

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18.—(P)—Peggy, that "fine, nervy girl" of the best-seller war book "They Were Expendable," was identified today as Lieut. Beulah Greenwalt of the Army Nurse Corps.

Mrs. Jason R. King of St. Louis made the identification to the Post-Dispatch, explaining Lieutenant Greenwalt, whose gallant nursing on Bataan and Corregidor was eulogized by Author W. L. White and his naval narrators, was her sister.

Mrs. King said she had received from Lieut. Robert B. Kelley, second in command of the motor torpedo boat squadron which evacuated General MacArthur from the Philippines, an identifying letter.

A Brave Girl

Lieutenant Kelly wrote Mrs. King "Peggy is one of the grandest persons and one of the bravest I have ever known." The letter was dated last October 28.

Her fate after the fall of Corregidor still is obscure, although, in his letter to Mrs. King, Kelly mentioned he heard a list of American prisoners of war taken from a Japanese newspaperman contained the nurse's name.

Lieutenant Greenwalt is in her late 20s, the sister said. She studied nursing at Albuquerque, N. M., passed her examinations in 1934 with the highest grades in the state. She joined the Army Nurse Corps about five years ago, going to the Philippines in June, 1941.

Parents Were In Rolla

She is the daughter of Mrs. Samuel G. Greenwalt of Rolla, Mo. Her father died less than a month ago, asserting the only thing for which he wished to live was to hear his daughter tell of her experiences.

Most readers of "They Were Expendable" speculated chiefly about a possible romance between the nurse and Kelly.

Kelly related in the book how he sat despondently outside "The Rock" one night, thinking Peggy was at an army party.

"That didn't help any. Just then someone sat down beside me. I turned and it was Peggy."

"Didn't you like the party?" I asked. "I didn't go to the party," she said. "I thought it might be nice here." That was the swellest thing that ever happened to me."

German Defenses Take Toll Of Twenty-Two Planes Sunday Night

MOSCOW, Jan. 18.—(P)—The Red army's new offensive on the Voronezh front, most northerly of the series of winter blows against the whole axis position in the southwest, was making new progress today 50 miles west of the Don along the railway to Kupvansk and Kharkov.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A strong force of RAF bombers laid huge fires across Berlin in the renewed "war of the capitals" last night, but stiffened defenses of the German city took a toll of 22 planes compared with only one the previous night. London's anti-aircraft gunners meanwhile threw Nazi raiders into confusion by the fierceness of their barrage during two assaults last night and early today when the attackers lost 10 of perhaps 60 planes.

German efforts at retaliation for the mighty attack which apparently caught Berlin defenses napping Saturday night were relatively mild. London's ground guns threw up a curtain of steel and fire more thunderous and powerful than anything Londoners ever heard before.

Instead of trying to drive the bombers away from vital objectives and into the path of night fighters, the gunners aimed for bulwarks directly on the attacking bombers. The night's bag brought to more than 4,000 the number of enemy aircraft destroyed over Britain since the start of the war.

The barrage showered London rooftops with shell fragments and several persons were killed or wounded by shells which exploded only after striking the ground. The firing, which ceased only after the last of the raiders departed, combined with new secret anti-aircraft devices to make a spectacular show.

The air ministry announced both offensive and defensive operations.

Sedalians Watch For Murderer

SPRINGDALE, Ark., Jan. 18.—(P)—Harold Nail, 20-year-old Lowell resident, died in a Lafayette hospital today, third victim of a sidewalk shooting here late Sunday night.

A fourth man, L. Graham, about 21, Lowell, remained in a critical condition at the hospital. Paul Phillips, about 30, farmer of near Springdale, was killed instantly and Lyle Carter, about 30, Springdale service station worker, died within a few minutes after after a pistol fusillade felled group.

Police Chief C. D. Lichtyler said the four were shot by a man with whom they had been sitting in a cafe and with whom they had argued on the sidewalk. The officer said the assailant was known and an arrest was expected soon.

The Missouri State Highway Patrol was asked to be on the lookout for a Dodge car driven by the alleged murderer. The car it was said, had a Michigan license C. D. 1936 on it. It was indicated the car may have been headed into this territory and all patrolmen in this section were informed to be on the lookout.

The Daily
Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
(Major Robert S. Allen on active duty)

WASHINGTON—Ed Flynn's appointment as ambassador "in the Southwest Pacific" and Minister to Australia was just about as much a surprise to most of the Australian Legation in Washington as it was to ill-informed White House secretaries. Reason was that the president had cleared the appointment personally in a phone call to Winston Churchill.

This was necessary, first, because FDR wanted to appoint the Democratic ex-chairman as ambassador, and ordinarily there can be only one ambassador from the United States to the British Empire. Also FDR knew that Churchill was acquainted with Flynn personally.

As a matter of fact, the British, aside from the Senate furor over Belgian paving blocks, which they don't understand, are not unhappy over Ed Flynn's appointment. This is chiefly because Ed is Irish—in fact very Irish, having been educated in Ireland. And the British need more Irish ties, not only among Irish-Americans, but among Irish-Australians, of which there are many.

Also the British know some of the backstage support Flynn has given them and the president's foreign policy. Back in 1940, when foreign policy was really tough, FDR called Ed down from the Bronx to help him get the neutrality act changed so he could begin aid to Britain. Flynn sat in Majority Leader John McCormack's office, summoned a steady stream of isolationist Democrats—many of them fellow Irish—and persuaded them to go down the line.

Those British who know the inside of that fight, haven't forgotten.

Good Neighbor Gets Raw Welcome

Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King—as popular in this country as he is in Canada—makes many unheralded trips to Washington and the south without ever getting into the newspapers. On one of these recently his private car was standing in the Washington railroad yards about a mile from the Union Station when there was a sudden crash against the car window.

Mackenzie King, who had been sitting beside the window quietly reading, was so surprised that he jumped up, cried, "Assassin!" But he found it was only an urchin heaving a rock at his car window. Afterward the portly prime minister got down on his hands and knees and searched the floor to pick up pieces of glass.

Willkie And The Censor
Wendell Willkie sent a hot telegram to Chief Censor Byron Price the other day protesting that his speeches—some of them critical of British imperialism—were so long delayed by the censor that they could not be published adequately in British newspapers.

Two of Willkie's important speeches, in Toronto and before the N. Y. Herald-Tribune Forum, were delayed by the censor until after delivery at 11 p. m., by which time it was around 3 a. m. in London and too late for publication in morning newspapers. Since British morning papers are the ones which publish speeches at length and which really carry weight, this meant the virtual blanketing of his speeches.

When Willkie took this up with the New York Censor it was explained that no speeches were released before delivery because Nazi agents might pick them up from radio transmission wavelengths and then broadcast replies to the speech while it was being delivered.

Willkie accepted this, until Vice-President Wallace delivered his famous speech on Woodrow Wilson's birthday. Then he was amazed to learn that Wallace's speech was cabled in large part to England two days in advance.

Immediately Willkie wired Byron Price inquiring why this happened. "Do members of the administration enjoy a different rule than that which applies to me?" he asked.

Byron Price wired back that the Office of War Information had cabled Vice-President Wallace's speech to London in advance, and that the Office of Censorship had nothing to do with it.

To this Willkie replied: "The question is not which government agency transmitted one speech and which government agency prohibited transmission of another. The question is whether it is the policy of the administration to permit one person's talk to be transmitted to the London press in time for real use, and prohibits the other."

Willkie vs. British

That's the end of the debate over the transmission of Willkie's speeches. However, that is not the end of the debate over British imperialism. Willkie very definitely intends to keep this up. He realizes that he may be misunderstood by the British, especially when they read his speeches only in brief excerpts.

But Britishers who have talked to him go away feeling that they have one of the best friends in the world so far as the British people are concerned. Regarding the British colonial system, however, it is something else.

"I do not believe," Willkie has told friends, "that the colonial system, whether British, French, German, Portuguese or Dutch, is a thing which those fighting for freedom can be particularly proud of."

Willkie also says that he is completely opposed to the promises being made by Secretary Hull to return piece by piece the French Empire to France, such as French Indo-China. He believes that no promises of this kind should be made at this time.

"For," he explains, "we may have a Fascist government in France after the war."

"I do not know what we are fighting for if we are not fighting for freedom," Willkie told a friend not long ago. "And I think we will win the war easier and quicker if we keep our colors clean and bright. Maybe I am all wrong, but I really believe the things I saw about freedom and I cannot watch the deviation from principle without saying so."

That is why Willkie is going to keep on pounding on British imperialism, and hoping that part of his speeches will get across the Atlantic to the British people who, in his opinion, don't really believe in imperialism either.

Merry-Go-Round

The State Department now discloses that when U. S. naval vessels shelled Casablanca, they sunk two French ships known as "economic accord vessels," which were ready to sail under a diplomatic agreement to exchange commodities between the U. S. A. and North Africa. It's a sign of the times that a temperance society puts out two million copies of an anti-liquor magazine "Signs of the Times." Principal theme is that "armies can't run on alcohol." The Germans have ordered confiscation of all church bells in Holland, to be melted down for the German war industry. In every municipality one small bell will be left to sound air raid alerts.

'I Am a Murderer'

By Morris Markey

Copyright, 1942, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: This is the story of the "perfect crime"—the murder of Col. Wesley Hope Merrivether in the library of his Long Island estate—and of the events leading up to it. The Colonel's daughter Cynthia has a close friend in Henry Prentiss, a close friend in Henry Prentiss, another polo player. But Cynthia seems most attracted to a foreign correspondent, Vaughan Dunbar, who appeared unheralded one night with a message from Cynthia's old friend, Bill Stewart.

THREE MEN ON HER HANDS

CHAPTER IX

COLONEL MERRIVETHER picked up a card from his desk, and examined it quietly, and handed it to Grace. "Will you please telephone Mr. Vaughan Dunbar at the hotel he indicates here and ask him to dine with us this evening?"

Mitchell Grace said, "Certainly, sir," while chemical changes of a deplorable nature occurred in his blood stream.

He walked out with the card, and made his telephone call, and received word that Mr. Dunbar was out but would be given the message promptly upon his return. He sat then, at the window of his room, and looked down at the pool where he saw not only Cynthia Merriwether but also Henry Prentiss. They sat together on the stone bench, and between them there was laughter.

At the pool, the gravest matter to fall into the talk between Cynthia and Henry Prentiss was the disgusting fact that he could not go into the water. "It wouldn't hurt the mitt," he said, "but think what it would do to all those nice, clean bandages."

"I could put on new ones. Hey! That's the way for a gentle maiden to capture the hero's heart, isn't it? Binding up his wounds! I could even tear a strip off my petticoat. That would make it perfect."

"Granting the maiden, I don't grant the gentle," he said.

And Cynthia Merriwether blushed.

"Furthermore," he said, "where in the name of Harper's Bazaar would you find a petticoat? Tell me that, Miss Pretty, and I'll do a half-gainer off the high board—and now!"

"Rat."

Which, for the ridiculous reasons that obtain in such encounters, brought on laughter, and Cynthia went swimming, and Prentiss looked at her. And Prentiss sighed. But then he got himself a cocktail from the glass-topped table near his chair, and drank it with plebeian swiftness.

WHEN Cynthia came back to sit beside him on the bench with water dripping down from her legs to make small puddles on the ground, he got her a cocktail too, and admired her while she lifted it, and said with a detachment and perspicuity which were not of his usual way of speaking, "Something troubles you, Pretty. Tell the old boon companion what it is."

"Poor Grace," she said. "The devil is head over heels for you, isn't he?"

"Is that it? Is that really it, Hank?"

"You talk like something out of 'Little Women.'"

"You make me feel like something out of 'Gone With the Wind.'"

In such trifling manner (though surely with no unkindness) the doleful plight of Mitchell Grace was discussed. And the discussion waned because there seemed nothing that anybody could do about it anyway. And the discussion died because Henry Prentiss suddenly remembered.

"People dance at the club to-night. For the sake of my prestige, I cannot afford to appear with anything but the loveliest and the best. Meaning you. If you want a sprig of posies, you'd better decide which of those two dresses you're going to wear."

"Thanking you just the same, but Fred West is in by a neck."

"All right, then, Miss Pretty, goodby. I'll see you at the dance—if I'm permitted to look."

"Permitted is the word for it, after last night."

"I can explain!" He said this with an exaggeration of mockery, but she was trotting away up the lawn and it is doubtful whether she bothered to hear him.

Mitchell Grace, from his window, watched her approach. Pain was upon him.

WITHIN the languid course of the afternoon, Vaughan Dunbar telephoned, and spoke with Mitchell Grace, and said that he would be pleased to dine at Stone House. When this word was dutifully delivered to Cynthia, she put in a call for Fred West:

"We've got to call signals again."

"If this is another runaround, my dear, I'm off to join the Canadian Air Force."

"You'll have to blame the Colonel. He has invited Vaughan Dunbar for dinner, and according to the rules I've got to be here for dinner too."

"All this just after I've called the club and reserved the best table in the joint."

"Why don't you come here for dinner yourself?"

"That's better. Not much, but a little."

"And how's for this—bring Anne along, if she hasn't got a date."

"Anne never has a date. Nobody's cousin ever has a date. But why drag her in on it?"

"Because there's got to be another gal, that's why."

"I get it. Somebody for me to talk to while you disappear somewhere with the great Dunbar. Well, I've already heard everything Cousin Anne has to say. Too often."

"Can't you trust me?"

"No."

"Then I'll expect the pair of you about half-past 7."

"Okay."

"Buy her a posy."

"I'll see you."

Thereafter, with the warmth of her well-designed ear still upon the telephone receiver, Cynthia dialed the number of Henry Prentiss. She knew perfectly well that she was being rather silly and childish, but that knowledge did not deter her in the least. Henry Prentiss was altogether too cocksure and so she said to him when he answered:

"It may be, friend, that I will not make it to the dance after all. Just called so you wouldn't brood."

"Why aren't you going?"

"You needn't be so gruff about it. It's a damn fine thing for me to call you at all."

"Much obliged. But I would still like to know what you're up to."

"The Colonel is having Vaughan Dunbar to dinner. If he wants to go to the club after, I'll take him. Or he may go home early, and I'll come on with Fred. Or he may want to stay and talk."

"Personally, you prefer for him to stay and talk."

"On the contrary, Mr. Know, I prefer to show him off at the club, if he'll go. A new face is a kind of treat around these parts."

"How's for putting up a place at the table for me too, and letting me show the guy up?"

"No good. I've got only one other gal, and it wouldn't work."

"Well—wishing you a very pleasant time."

"Write soon."

"Love and kisses."

"Very truly yours."

Yanks and China Look Each Other Over

American soldiers somewhere in China are as great an attraction to the Chinese as are the sights of that ancient land to the Yanks. Trim Chinese policeman, upper left, is object of interest to both U. S. sergeants and native too. Uncle Sam's boys in jimrickshas, upper right, draw big crowd as they roll down a village street. Bomb shelter carved out of solid rock at the base of a hill, lower left, is a top attraction for sightseers. And there's a touch of the old China in the pagoda being passed by another group of soldiers, lower right.

F. (Jim) Rogers, Santa Rosa accountant, was wounded in action while fighting in France in World War No. 1.

"Last night he was presented the coveted Order of the Purple Heart medal during a meeting of Theodore Roosevelt Post of the American Legion.

"The presentation was made by L. G. Hitchcock, a past commander of the post, who told legionnaires of the circumstances leading up to the engagement in the Vosges mountains, during which Rogers received wounds.

"Presentation of the Purple Heart medal highlighted the regular meeting of the legionnaires, held in Moose hall, with Commander Floyd Wilkinson presiding. It was announced that the local post will be host to the county council here January 20."

Whittier PTA Met Friday

The Parent-Teacher association of Whittier school met Friday at the school, with Mrs. A. J. Gregory presiding.

The program, presented by the sixth grade room of Miss Letha Shaw and the sixth and seventh grade room of Miss Carolyn Courtney, was built around a safety theme, and was in the form of a radio play, with microphone, sound effects, and incidental music. Three songs were also presented under the direction of Miss Mary Schrankler—"I Pledge Allegiance," "Sundown," and "Any Bonds Today".

Following a short business meeting, the speaker, Judge Dimmitt Hoffman, spoke on "What Missouri is Doing to Protect Modern Youth". He explained some of the Missouri laws and statutes governing delinquencies of minors.

The next meeting will be the annual Founders' Day observation, February 19.

Youth Locked In Box Car

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Jan. 18—(P)—Bobby Dale Vance, 14, set out from his Granby, Mo., home to find a job and help his mom and dad, but, instead, he wound up locked in a railroad box car for two days and nights, cold, hungry and frightened.

The youth was rescued at Wybark, Okla., Sunday when his yells and pounding attracted railroad workers. Bobby, wolfing down a warm meal, told Muskogee police he left home Friday and went without food or water two days.

"Dad hadn't been able to get regular work and I thought I would get out and find a job and help mom and dad," he explained. Bobby rode an oil train to Kansas City, then hopped into a box car loaded with dry beans and went to sleep. The car was locked, sealed and joined to a southbound train. Bobby shouted and pounded at every stop but it wasn't until the car was switched onto a siding at Wybark that his clamor was heard.

"I sure want to get back home and I'll never leave there again," the youth said fervently.

Program At Smelser School

Smelser P. T. A. held its January meeting Friday night with the president, Mrs. William Schroder, presiding. The program was as follows:

Study class article from the National Parent-Teacher magazine, Mrs. Lester Alexander.

Business session with members answering roll call with "How to Overcome Worries".

Talk, Miss Dorothy Bacon. Poem, "My Lucky Stars", Ella Dee Runge.

Songs, "There's a Star-Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere" and "America", sung by the school.

Refreshments were served in the basement.

Red Cross Corner

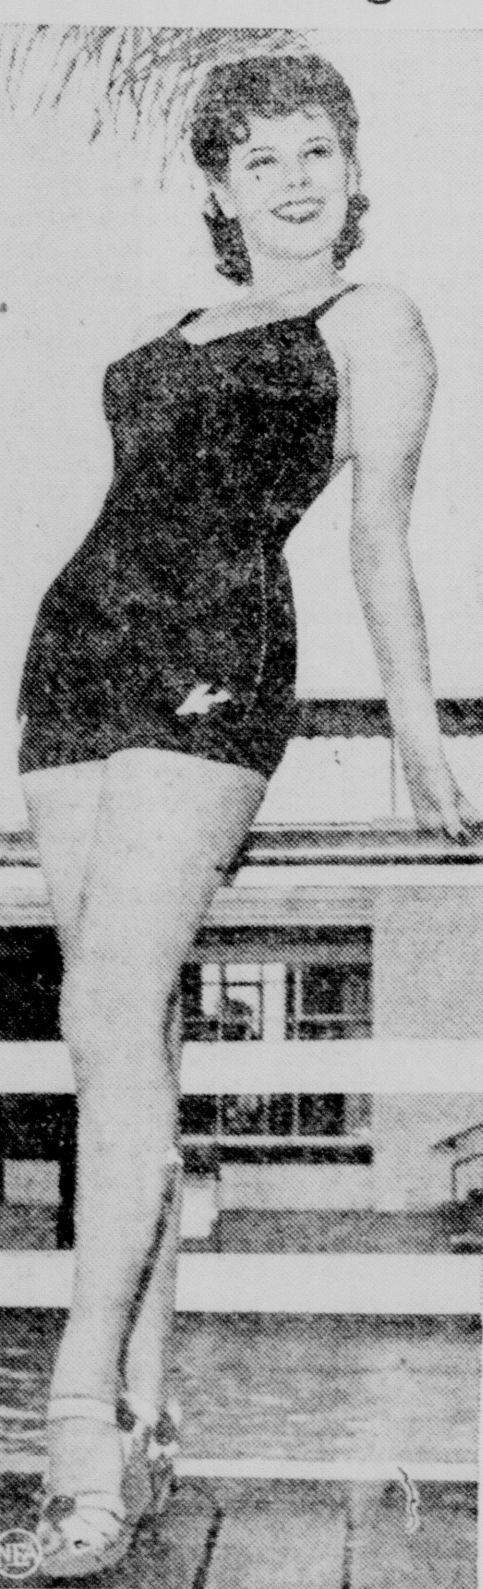

We have had numerous inquiries concerning the age limit for Nurse's Aides. The following letter from the branch office in St. Louis gives a blanket answer:

"The demand for Nurse's Aides is increasing more rapidly than Nurse's Aides are being trained. War industries and responsibilities incident to war activities are making it difficult for chapters to recruit a sufficient number of applicants. This is especially true in daytime classes. Women over 50 years of age are often able to give more service as daytime Nurse's Aides than younger volunteers with greater family responsibilities. Chapters are authorized, therefore, to make exceptions to the National 50-year age limit provided applicants can meet the other National requirements as to personality, educational background, satisfactory physical condition, et cetera. In case of an applicant over 50 years of age, special care should be taken to make sure that her examining physician knows what may be required of her as a Nurse's Aide."

We know that there are many Sedalia women over 50 years of age, who would like to become Nurse's Aides. To them we say, here is your chance. Call the Red Cross office 110 for further information.

Saves Pennies For Many Years

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18 — (P) — James H. Tapley, 48-year-old airplane plant machinist, hasn't spent a cent since he was a youngster of four.

Tapley said at that time his father bought him a penny bank in the shape of a pig and told him to "take that pig and fatten

Since the war he's been investing his pennies in war bonds. Tapley came here as a machinist, leaving his father to run his farm near Hannibal.

HOW TO SLICE BREAD AT HOME

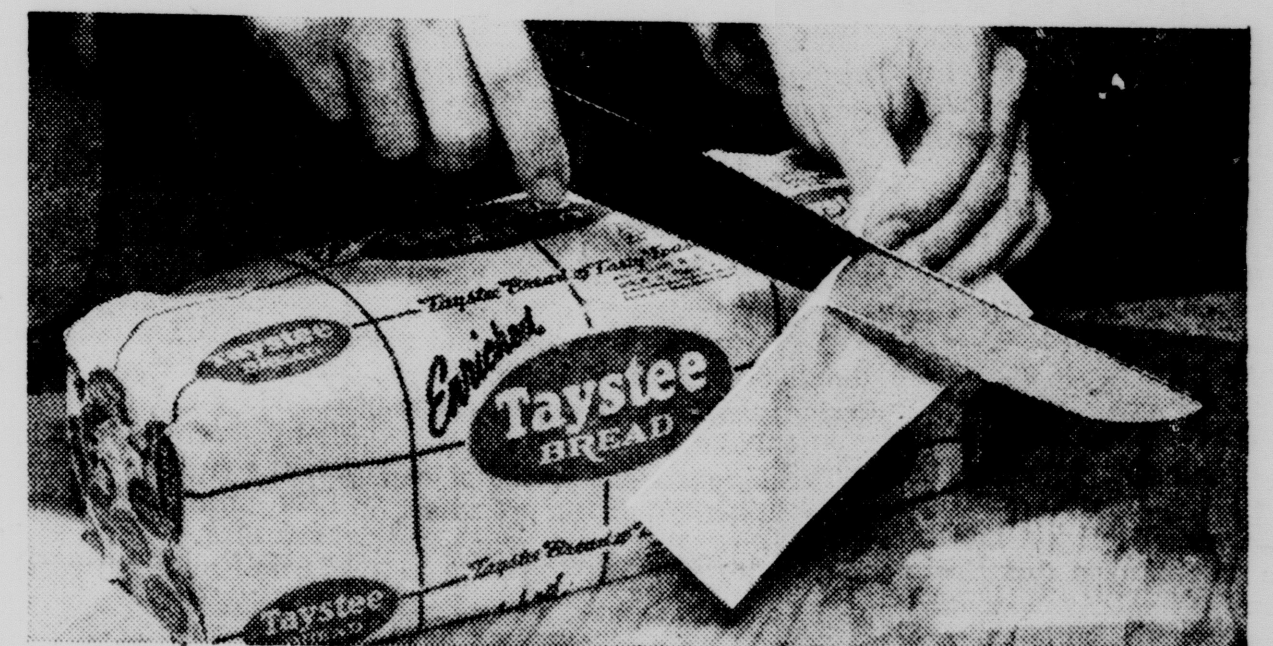

By Government order there is no more sliced bread.

Some of you will notice that Taystee Bread, as it comes to you now unsliced is not quite so soft . . . just a little more compact. There's a little more "heft" to it . . . to help you slice it easily.

You'll notice, too, that Taystee Bread continues to make toast that you and millions of others say is better. Its golden goodness adds a delicious touch to meals.

It's not only by chance that Taystee Bread now, as in the past, makes such tasty toast and tasty sandwiches.

Taystee Bread is still that golden-brown, tender, fresh loaf of bread . . . made with fine ingredients and constant care like the Taystee Bread you've always enjoyed.

1. USE SHARP KNIFE. This is important for straight slices to fit toaster. Test sharpness of knife on piece of paper as shown.

2. SLICE THROUGH THE SIDE of the loaf, not through the top. Start knife at edge of the bottom crust, not the top of the loaf.

3. USE SAWING MOTION. Saw lightly. Do not press hard, push or try to slice through in one stroke.

Midwinter Lull Has Been Broken

R. A. F. Over
Berlin, Nazis
Over London

By GLENN BABB

The mid winter lull which has ruled for weeks on most of the major war fronts was savagely shattered over the week-end. Berlin's 14-months respite from air attack was ended by the RAF's smashing one-two punch and Berliners made their first acquaintance with the block-busters, so much more devastating than anything Goering has been able to deliver over London.

In Africa General Montgomery let his Eighth Army in motion again. And in Russia, where there has been no lull, to Hitler's sorrow, the resurgent Red army gave new evidence of its tremendous reserve power by adding another offensive to the half dozen already rolling forward, meanwhile continuing the relentless destruction of the 22 trapped divisions before Stalingrad.

Everywhere the initiative was with the allies; nowhere was the enemy, German, Italian or Japanese, permitted to choose the new battlefields. His response was limited to feeble retaliation, as in the air war over Europe, desperate defensive fighting in Russia, headlong retreat in Libya.

Success Promised

Of the new campaigns that in North Africa promises the earliest major success. Nowhere throughout the world have axis fortunes fallen more disastrously than in this campaign of pursuit across Libya, which illustrates more vividly than any other phase of the conflict the way the initiative has been snatched from Hitler and his fellows. Only three months ago Rommel was still a threat to Alexandria, the Suez Canal and the whole position of the United Nations in the Middle East. Now, more than 1,000 miles to the west of El Alamein, where the one time wizard of the desert wars met his master, Rommel again is in rapid retreat.

Apparently that beating he received at El Alamein robbed Rommel not only of the initiative but of the capacity to offer effective resistance. Twice now, at El Aghella and last week at Buerat El Hsun, he has abandoned naturally strong positions and fled as soon his conqueror, Montgomery, was ready to resume the advance. In the latter case Rommel had the additional advantages of communications lines only a fraction of those which supplied the Eighth Army. The strong implication is that the axis high command has decided to abandon Libya and combine forces in Tunisia for a last stand in Africa.

Driving At Libya

Today's communique suggests that the British commander has loosed an attack that he intends to make the coup de grace for the axis in Libya. His advance columns are less than 100 miles from Tripoli, driving straight at that objective by inland, semi-desert trails, scoring the longer and probably safer coastal route that leads through Misurata and Homs. Beni Uid, mentioned in the Cairo bulletin, is well to the west of both those coastal cities, nearly 100 miles from the coast and about the same distance southeast of Tripoli. The route of this thrust indicates that Montgomery's left wing was on the move in a wide inland sweep days before the British announced the resumption of the drive and that the jittery axis reports of the Eighth Army's movements late last week were based on accurate premonitions of disaster impending.

Gap Narrows

That distance between Montgomery's vanguard and the allied force of Britons, Americans and Frenchmen in Tunisia has been narrowed to less than 400 miles. The gap between the Eighth Army and the Fighting French column which has come up from equatorial Africa is even less. It may be only a matter of days until all three forces are in effective military contact and the encirclement of the Rommel-Nehring combination—if that combination can be accomplished—is made complete. Also it may be only a few days until the last of Mussolini's African empire is lost.

MU Graduation February 5

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 18.—(P)—The first mid-year commencement exercises at the University of Missouri since the first World War will be held Friday night, February 5.

Leslie Cowan, secretary of the university board of curators, announced the board approved the commencement plans, and said President Frederick A. Middlebush would probably be the speaker at the formal ceremony at which approximately 230 students expect to graduate.

Cowan said the commencement was called as an emergency war measure as many of the graduates would be in the armed services and unable to return to June graduation exercises.

Miners Refuse To End 19 Day Old Walkout

War Labor Board said the board probably would refer the strike to President Roosevelt with an informal suggestion that he make a direct, personal appeal to the strikers to return to their jobs.

A motion to refer the case to the President was made in a board meeting soon after it convened today. And an early vote was expected.

Refer To President

In previous cases of defiance it has been the board's practice to refer the case to the President, suggesting formally that he take "such action as you deem appropriate." The decision then was made by the White House on the basis of informal recommendations of specific steps.

There was speculation whether the board would suggest the use of troops if a personal appeal was ineffective or whether a reclassification of the workers under selective service would be proposed.

Prior to the WLB meeting Wayne L. Morse, a public member of the board, said "it's quite obvious that if they aren't going back to work we'll have to lay the matter before the President immediately. There's nothing else to do."

The board has declared that the strike is endangering the prosecution of the war by creating a hard coal shortage throughout the northeast.

Eager To Strike

Shouts of "strike! strike!" punctuated the meeting of at least one local which convened last night to vote on the WLB's second ultimatum issued after a public hearing Friday. Carl Kratz, president of this local, said the shouts came from members of other locals and that therefore the balloting was being deferred.

"It's a desperate situation," Kratz said. "It's too bad it had to happen in war time."

Kratz was one of several strike leaders who voted after the WLB hearing, to recommend immediate resumption of production.

The United Mine Workers' bushy-browed President John L. Lewis, who has consistently urged a return to work, won a second victory in the strike last night when the tri-district anthracite within the union, voted to disband, without explaining why.

Against Walkout

It also voted to recommend that the 20,000 miners it claims to represent abandon any plans to join the walkout.

The lone dissenting ballot came from Louis Novitski, president of a Lansford, Pa., local, who shouted:

"I would rather work under soldiers than under John L. Lewis."

The strikers seek a flat cost-of-living bonus of $2 a day over daily wages averaging, according to varying estimates, from $4.50 to $8.50. They also demand that a 50-cents a month union dues increase be eliminated, saying it was voted at a UMW convention at which bituminous coal delegates held unfair voting power. The increase was from $1 to $1.50.

forces poised along the lower Don only 60 miles east of Rostov.

The German high command communique broadcast from Berlin testified to the intensity and relatively fluid nature of the struggle. It stated that Red army forces attacking along the southern front "were repulsed after heavy fighting or intercepted by moving tactics by counterattacks or by the stubborn resistance offered by German bands."

Germans Defending

The Germans told of heavy defensive fighting south of Lake Ladoga in which 229 Soviet tanks were declared to have been put out of action since Jan. 12; local fighting on the central front and said the German forces encountered the most difficult conditions withstood further strong attacks.

"During the night," the Berlin bulletin said, "German bombers raided enemy supply lines north-east of Moscow."

The Red army is now in position to drive on Rostov, key Nazi supply center, from both the north and the east and other Russian columns are approaching the city on tangents such as the Stalingrad-Novorossisk railway and the Rostov-Baku railway in the Stalingrad-Tikhoretsk-Novorossisk railway was reported just 23 miles short of Salsk, a railroad center 100 miles southeast of Rostov. Thus separate Soviet armies were menacing Rostov from points 85, 60 and about 123 miles distant.

The mid-day communique as recorded by the Soviet Monitor said the drive in the northern Donets was developing successfully and that three more populated places in the north Caucasus. Fierce fighting it said, was in progress on the western outskirts of a large place in the north Caucasus, but the city was not identified. The next really sizeable city northwest of Georgievsk on the Baku-Rostov railroad line is Armavir, about 160 miles south-east of Rostov.

Russians troops, it was said, broke through German fortifications and minefields outside the city and entered the outskirts. Heavy street fighting developed and 450 Germans were reported killed.

In the overnight fighting south of Voronezh, where the Russians are engaged in a new offensive announced only Saturday, the capture of several more communities was reported. The communique said that almost the entire garrison of one strongly fortified center of resistance was wiped out. In another sector, 1,255 German officers and men, were taken prisoner, it was added.

In the Stalingrad area, the surrounded German troops were handed new heavy blows. More than 1,000 Germans were killed and 850 captured, the communique said.

Small Business Commandments

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(P)—The senate small business committee today laid down five basic principles which members said would be hailed as "five commandments" by the operators of small enterprises.

They were:

"Small business must be more effectively used in war production.

"Small business must be more effectively used in meeting essential civilian needs.

"Small business requires assistance in adjusting to certain war conditions.

"Small business needs better access to capital.

"If small business is to make its maximum contribution to American life, the federal government must improve its approach to small business problems."

The five points were set out in a report of the committee's activities, presented by the chairman, Senator Murray (D-Mont.).

Memorial Service For Judge Frank

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 18.—(P)—The state supreme court will hold memorial services next Monday for the late Judge William Frank of Kirksville, who was a judge of the court from 1929 until his death in September, 1938.

The court will receive a portrait of Judge Frank with brief eulogies by Rep. C. E. Still (R), Adair county; Roy D. Williams of Booneville, former judge of the Kansas City Court of Appeals, and Waldo C. Edwards of Macon, member of the state board of bar examiners.

Chief Justice George Robb Ellison will accept the painting for the court.

WPB Hears Of Fuel Situation

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 18.—(P)—The War Production Board was reported today at the opening of a senatorial committee hearing on the Midwest fuel situation to be ready to grant material priorities for increased production in this area as soon as it and the senate committee could determine from where it should come.

That was the statement of Senator Clyde M. Reed of Kansas as he opened the four-day hearing. Senator Reed also said the committee was told in Washington by OPA, WPB and three fuel coordinators that there was some merit to charges of lack of co-ordination among them but that had been remedied by establishment of a co-ordination office here.

He termed the fuel oil situation in eastern Kansas and western Missouri as critical as anywhere in the nation and decided it would be a good idea to call in federal agencies at the hearing to see to what extent co-ordination had been set up.

Senator Reed brought out that at the Washington hearing the committee found that 68 per cent of the nation's oil comes from the area between the Mississippi river and the Rocky mountains, including Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, and that it furnishes 68 per cent of the natural gas.

"Naturally, such an area should not be short of fuel," he said, adding the committee had found its potential coal production alone would be adequate for the area's needs.

Senator Reed was the only member of the committee present at the opening of the hearing. Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri, the chairman, and Senator Tom Stewart of Tennessee, both are expected to be here by the time oil men are heard tomorrow.

Sensors Scott Lucas of Illinois and Chan Gurney of South Dakota have been held in Washington on other committee hearings.

Party Tuesday Night For Enlisted Soldiers

There will be a party for the enlisted men in the army at the USO Center Tuesday night, beginning at 8 o'clock. An entertaining program has been planned.

Report Large Sums Made By 'War Brokers'

War Frauds Division Is Now Investigating

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(P)—A report that 121 sales engineers "war brokers" have received approximately $15,000,000 since 1939 soliciting government agencies for defense business came today from Representative Vinson (D-Ga.).

Seeking renewal of the house naval committee's authority to investigate the costs of war, Vinson told the rules committee that a study of war contracts during the past year had resulted in renegotiations amounting to "direct savings of more than $700,000,000."

"The committee," he said, "likewise took the lead in unveiling before the public the spectacle of the so-called 'sales engineers' who, operating on a contingent fee basis as representatives of numerous war contractors, realized huge annual returns incommensurate with the services rendered."

Justice Department Active

"One of these gentlemen, a former government employee, whose salary was never in excess of $4,000, in a period of less than two years had earned the staggering sum of approximately $600,000. This gentleman is now under indictment as a result of evidence obtained by the committee, and I am advised that the war frauds division of the Department of Justice is preparing to obtain indictment against others on the basis of evidence obtained by this committee."

Vinson declared that for the past six months the house naval committee had investigated "scores of so-called sales representatives operating in Washington," and added that since the beginning of the war 121 of the agents, operating on a contingent fee basis, have earned more than $15,000,000.

Saving To The Navy

He reported that the navy department, through renegotiation based on the "exorbitant" earnings of "these gentlemen" has effected, through the voluntary cooperation of the contractors employing them, a savings to the navy and likewise to the army of approximately $4,000,000.

The Georgia representative said that in addition, the house naval committee had conducted numerous field investigations into navy construction projects and into the operation of private corporations having business with the navy department which, though no public hearings were held, have resulted in the reduction of prices, the remedying of certain abuses uncovered and the adoption by the department of various improvements in its organizations and procurement system.

Two-Month Contracts To Faurot And Aides

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 18.—(P)—Head Coach Don Faurot and his football coaching aides at the University of Missouri have been given two-month contracts at the same salary they drew last year, Leslie Cowan, secretary of the university board of curators, said today.

"Pending the decision of the armed services on the use of the university, we have continued the old staff on last year's basis for two months ending March 1," Cowan said.

Faurot, Assistant Coach Harry Smith who was recently re-classified I-A by his selective service board, Line Coach Herb Bunker, Backfield Coach Chauncey Simpson, Line Freshman Coach John Simmons, and Trainer Ollie DeVictor received the abbreviated contracts. Faurot received $10,000 in 1942.

Funeral services were held Sunday at Chillicothe, his former home, at the Stanley funeral home, and burial was in the family lot there.

Mr. Porter was born and reared in the Hughesville-Longwood community, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lacy Porter. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Sue Spotts Porter, one sister, Mrs. Betty Belt, Carrollton, and three brothers, David Irvin Porter, Shreveport, La.; Thornton C. Porter, DeWitt, Mo.; Charles Porter, Carrollton. He is a nephew of J. T. Montgomery and Mrs. Allie Bouldin, and a cousin of Mrs. B. E. Broadus, of this city.

Joseph Roger Schnabel

Funeral services for Joseph Roger Schnabel, who passed away in San Diego, Calif., January 8 at the age of 52 years, were held in Burbank, Calif., on January 16 and the body brought to Sedalia where services will be held at the Gillespie funeral home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. W. L. Brandon, pastor of the Methodist church at Ionia to officiate.

Mr. Schnabel was born in Pettis county, July 20, 1890, the son of Elender Schnabel and the late L. J. Schnabel. He was graduated from the Sedalia business college and in 1908 was married to Miss Grace P. Tucker, who survives. Early in his married life he united with the Methodist church at Ionia.

Surviving besides his wife are his daughter, Mrs. Rex Williams and a granddaughter, Sara, of Burbank, Calif., his mother, Mrs. Elender Schnabel of Ionia, four sisters, Mrs. Mona Harkless, Wichita, Kas., Mrs. Lucy Bickel, Kansas City, Mrs. E. E. Marsh, Ionia, Mrs. George Bockelman, Mora, and five brothers, L. J. Schnabel, Portland, Ore., K. R. Schnabel, Berkeley, Calif., C. F. Schnabel, Kansas City, Kas., L. A. Schnabel, Kansas City, Mo., and H. I. Schnabel, Berkeley, Calif. Also several nieces and nephews survive.

Funeral services will be held at the Epworth Methodist church at 2 o'clock Tuesday night at the home of the late Mrs. E. W. Smith.

Burney Morris and I. H. Reed will sing "Ivory Palaces" and "In the Garden." Mrs. Mae Moser will be the accompanist.

Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

R. A. MacDonald

Ralph Arthur MacDonald, 1007 East Ninth street, died Saturday at the Missouri Pacific hospital in St. Louis, where he was taken that day after an illness of seven weeks, when he was a patient at Bothwell hospital.

Mr. MacDonald was born April 1, 1884 at Parsons, Kas., the son of the late Norman P. and Hattie MacDonald. He was married to Carrie Hull on August 28, 1906 in Smithton.

Mr. MacDonald was employed at the Missouri Pacific shops as an electrician and was the man who converted the old oil burner headlights into electric headlights at the Missouri Pacific shops here in 1908.

Surviving is his wife of the home, a daughter, Mrs. Evelyn McCamlin, Hastings, Neb., and a son, Ralph Arthur MacDonald, Jr., of Julesburg, Colo. Three grandchildren also survive. They are Mary Carolyn McCamlin, Mikell M. MacDonald and Virginia Lee MacDonald.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Gillespie funeral home with Rev. W. P. Arnold, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist church, to officiate.

Mrs. J. M. Stott will have charge of the music. Mrs. Stott and Mrs. W. P. Arnold will sing "Life's Railway to Heaven," and "O' Love That Will Not Let Me Go." Mrs. W. D. Steele will accompany.

The body will remain at the funeral home until after the services.

Palbearers will be selected from electricians at the shops. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Budget For Practical Taxpayers

Will Be Submitted By State Public Expenditure Survey

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Missouri public expenditure survey termed Gov. Forrest C. Donnell's record-high budget "wishful thinking" today and told the legislature it would present a "practicable taxpayers budget" to solve the state's financial troubles.

"For all practical purposes," said Keeton Arnett, executive director of the taxpayers organization, "the 'budget' as announced last week is not a budget at all."

He referred to Governor Donnell's announcement that he probably would send a budget to the legislature calling for $269,500,000—the largest in the state's history.

"It is a mere compilation of individual departmental guesses on revenues and 'wishful thinking' appropriation requests bearing what amounts to executive rubber stamp approval," Arnett continued.

In a letter to all members of the legislature he said:

"If the executive 'budget' is presented to you officially in any where near its announced form and substance, we shall undertake to submit to you, at the earliest possible moment, a real, practicable and sound taxpayers' budget, which we trust may prove helpful to you."

Sound Solution
"The taxpayers' budget will be more than a compilation of figures and, we believe, can be justified to an logical, unbiased and non-partisan mind seeking a sound solution."

The budget figures as announced by Donnell would require the legislature to vote new taxes if they are accepted at their present level. The Donnell budget would be at least $9,000,000 out of balance. It would be $20,000,000 greater than the general revenue budget of two years ago and almost $55,000,000 more costly in over-all expenses of the government.

Price Controls On Mixed Feeds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration has placed price controls, effective January 22, on mixed feeds used for poultry and livestock.

The OPA said the action "should effectively eliminate abuse of price controls, which had tended to raise farmer's costs."

The new price ceilings provide formulas for determining next month's prices at either manufacturing, wholesale or retail levels, with the last ceiling at $7.50 per ton above list prices.

German Defenses Take Toll Of Twenty-Two Planes Sunday Night

communiqué said. "A great load of bombs was dropped, by the end of the attack, large fires were burning."

The bombers flew in bright moonlight on most of the 1,200-mile round trip, but encountered some clouds over the target area. In contrast to the light opposition Saturday night, the air ministry said "there were many combats with enemy fighters." One of these was reported shot down.

The air ministry said 22 bombers failed to return.

The German high command, in a communiqué broadcast by the Berlin radio, said Nazi night fighters and anti-aircraft guns shot down 25, most of them four-motored types. Seven other allied aircraft were declared destroyed in operations over western Europe and the North sea.

The German figure for Nazi plane losses was six. The high command said the German raiders "caused extensive destructions, particularly in the district west of the large Thames bend."

Fire Losses Heavy

Hitler's officers did not comment on damage in the Sunday night raid on the German capital, but a subsequent Berlin broadcast said fire losses from the "terror attack" were heavy.

A high-flying plane, perhaps an enemy reconnaissance craft, sent British anti-aircraft guns into action along the Thames estuary this afternoon. No fresh bombing was reported.

In addition to the new bombing of Berlin, the RAF sent fighters against freight trains, barges and trucks serving the Germans in France, Belgium and Holland. The forays lasted 13 hours.

The air ministry said that of the enemy bombers which struck at London "few of them penetrated the outer defenses."

"Bombs were dropped at a number of places in greater London and elsewhere in southeast England," it reported. "Some damage was done, but it was nowhere on a large scale and mainly was confined to houses."

Not Many Casualties

"The number of casualties so far reported is not large."

Among the 10 German raiders shot down was a Dornier 217, a two-motored utility craft the Germans use for purposes ranging from reconnaissance to dive bombing.

Delighted that Berlin at last was being repaid heavily for the scourging of their beloved city, Londoners nevertheless were wondering whether the London-

Berlin duel meant a return of 1940-41 experiences. The Rome radio said Adolf Hitler's government was threatening full reprisals.

A DNB dispatch broadcast from Berlin said a strong German force made the early morning raid and thousands of explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped. However London sources estimated that not more than 30 bombers participated in each raid—both last night and this morning. They said no important public buildings were hit and industrial damage was slight.

Whole Block Wrecked

A stick of bombs dropped in one London district during the first raid wrecked a block of shops, a big department store and many houses. A firewatcher and a woman were killed there, several persons were injured and others were trapped.

The quick exchange of blows demonstrated simultaneously Britain's confidence in her growing air might and the increased strength of her home defenses.

Only one bomber out of perhaps 300 which participated in the Saturday night assault on Berlin failed to return, and the British triumphantly maintained they had won the first round of the renewed "battle of the capitals."

That assault was the first on the German capital since the night of Nov. 7, 1941, and was characterized as the heaviest to which the city ever had been subjected by British raiders.

Returning pilots said they had set fires visible 100 miles away and reported large areas in Berlin had been laid waste by 4,000 and 8,000-pound bombs and thousands of incendiaries.

Missourians In Midst Of Action

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Lieut. Glenn I. Crowell of Kansas City, and Lieut. Bilby of Skidmore, Mo., each shot down a German Messerschmitt over Tripoli harbor three days ago. They were piloting fighter planes escorting B-24 heavy bombers.

Dispatches from the middle east last August 16 listed Capt. Glade Bilby of Skidmore as the first American to drop a bomb in the western desert war. Nodaway county fair officials halted everything until full announcement of the exploit was made.

Jefferson Citan Punishes Japanese

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Lieut. Robert Liles of Jefferson City, Mo., was one of a group of American pilots who dealt heavy punishment to Japanese airmen attempting to raid an American air-drome in China's western Yunnan province Saturday.

Liles was credited with two Zeros probably destroyed. American pilots downed a total of seven Japanese planes and possibly 12 and damage to the airfield was light.

Rule Favors Women

LAKE CITY, Mo., Jan. 18.—(AP)—The War Labor Board and the Ordnance Department at Washington have approved the request of H. R. Dorr, manager of the Lake City Ordnance plant, to pay women wages similar to those given men doing comparable jobs.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 24, 1943.

Golden Text: Psalms 86:11. Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:31,32).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In Science, Truth is divine, and the infinite God can have no likeness. The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek" (pp.287,272).

Kansas Tied With Nebraska In Big Six

Nebraska Considered A Real Threat To Kansas For Title

By FRANK HOOD

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 18.—(P)—The Nebraska-Iowa clash at Ames tonight, one of three conference games this week, tops an 8-feature basketball program in the Big Six conference.

The result of the cage tussle at Ames will be reflected at the top of the league standing. A Cornhusker triumph would give Nebraska a slight edge over co-leading Kansas, and an Iowa State win would drop the Huskers into the show slot while boosting the Cyclones into a first place draw with Kansas.

The Cornhuskers, who apparently thrive on wartime transportation and foreign courts, can establish themselves as a real threat to both Kansas and almost equally favored Oklahoma by whipping Louis Menze's sophomore Cyclone club.

Iowa State also figures in another regular affair, tangling with Missouri Saturday night at Columbia. Kansas (carded to meet Kansas State Wednesday at Manhattan in the remaining league tilt, is almost certain to solidify its lead by trimming the Wildcats who have managed to win only one of eight games this year.

Oklahoma, the only Big Six quintet confined to outside competition, opposes the South Norman Naval Base tomorrow night and plays at Wichita Thursday. The other non-conference games have a war tang with Nebraska, entertaining the Olathe, Kas., Air Base, Thursday, the Fort Riley, Kas., Army club visiting Kansas State, and Kansas playing a return game with Camp Crowder, Mo., Saturday.

The Standings

	W.	L.	Pct.	Pts.	OP.
Kansas	2	0	1.000	117	88
Nebraska	2	0	1.000	80	68
Iowa State	1	0	1.000	34	24
Oklahoma	1	1	.500	101	86
Missouri	0	2	.000	80	108
Kansas State	0	3	.000	94	132

• Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(P)—This corner can't speak with authority about such places as Evansville and Muncie, Ind., Swarthmore, Pa., or Wilmington, Del., but from personal observation of the spots chosen by the New York clubs for spring training, we think some notably tall tales will develop from the efforts of players and scribes to find something to do outside of working hours. . . . One thing Asbury Park, Lakewood and Bear Mountain have in common is that they're very dead spots in the early spring and just a little too far from New York for quick and easy commuting.

The Seashore
Asbury Park, to our mind, is a place that's always a little too hot or a little too cold, except maybe late at night after a steaming summer day or on a sunny spring afternoon if you can keep out of the wind. . . . It's a pretty big town, criss-crossed by wide, sandy streets and chock full of hotels of all sizes and shapes and needing, more than anything else, a few of the wide, green lawns you see across the lake in Allenhurst and Deal. . . . It probably has more amusements than the other places, but most of them are along the boardwalk and they stay tightly closed until the summer season gets under way. . . . P. S.: At any season, the shore dinners are something to write home about.

The Pines
Lakewood, only 17 miles inland from Asbury Park, is a winter resort where they begin to hang up the shutters about spring-cleaning time. . . . You can get plenty of sand in your shoes there, too, but what you notice the most in that section are the scraggly, misshapen pine trees that keep reminding us of a New Hampshire description of a scrub pine tract—it couldn't be more wuthless than good for nothing. . . . You have to be careful about your cigar butts there, too; remember those disastrous forest fires during a dry spring a couple of years ago. . . . It isn't surprising that the Giants found horse-drawn transportation to their training field on the Rockefeller estate. Carriages always have been popular there, apparently because there's no hurry when there's no place to go. . . . Last we heard, the court where Jay Gould learned to be the world's greatest court tennis player was being used as a gymnasium by the girls of Georgian Court college. . . . Maybe that's just as well. Imagine the reaction if somebody asked a rookie if he'd like a choice seat in the Dedans.

Off They Go, Into the Wild Blue Yonder

The Mountains
The night before the Dodgers picked Bear Mountain for their training site somebody counted 22 deer feeding on the baseball field. But its miles to the nearest place where you can put a couple of bucks on a horse race. . . . Currently, the place is something of a winter sports center (when there's snow) featuring ice skating, skiing and the big stone fireplace in the oversize log structure known as the Inn. . . . In summer, the woods and lakes and the view from the top of Bear Mountain, rising 1,500 feet from where the Hudson winds around its base, make it a popular week-end spot for city folks. . . . The Dodgers' announcement put considerable stress on the fact that there's a level playing field. In fact, it probably is the only level field in that part of the country except for the plains at West Point, where the team will go on bad days to work out in the army field house. . . . But if they make the athletes walk to the top of the mountain every day, we'll guarantee they'll all be in shape for the start of the season.

Lt. Col. Ad Lindsay To Bleacher Coaching
KANSAS CITY, Jan. 18.—(P)—"I found I could have done a better job of coaching from the stands," reports Ad Lindsay, former Oklahoma and Kansas football mentor now a lieutenant colonel of infantry at an Oregon training camp.

He's been watching games as a spectator this year, and "the bleachers are master minds—really take things apart and put them together."

Wonder If Sergeant Louis Has Any Ideas
FORT SILL Okla., Jan. 18.—(P)—If the next world's heavyweight boxing champion is a man, he's in the army.

So says Sgt. Joe Louis, present holder of the title.

Big Eaters Struggle With Self Denial

Doctor Thinks They Are Not Jolly At Heart

CLEVELAND, Jan. 18.—(P)—Dr. George H. Reeve, staff psychiatrist at Mt. Sinai hospital here, has a new theory about our jolly fat friends. He thinks they're not really jolly at all. That, for various reasons they've substituted food for love.

He thinks the fat fellow's jollity is just a "defense mechanism." That is, he assumes a pose of jollity to cover up a basic sadness and confusion.

Reeve has built this theory over the past two years because he began to wonder about the large proportion of his nervous patients who were also obese.

As he unwound their personal histories he found that all of them had substituted food for love.

He has found amazingly little work has been done on the psychological factors in obesity, and he found very few statistics, even in insurance company records, to help him.

More Fat Women

So his theory has brought up a host of questions to which the answers must be worked out slowly. For instance:

It appears that more women are fat than men. But is it true? If it is, why is it that women are more prone to emotional maladjustments which lead them to the dinner table and the ice-box for their primary source of pleasure?

If obesity is due to some mental or emotional trouble how much good are the huge gymnasiums where the fashionable, fat and rich suffer through contortions to regain their girlish and boyish figures?

Reeve points out that obesity is always a serious danger to health, giving the fat person a tendency to diabetes, hypertension, and other ills.

If this sets you to wondering, start with the medico's definition of obesity: It's 15 percent over the average weight for your given age and bony structure. That's 15 percent. Not pounds.

Reeve admits the sort of fat

Generalissimo of the Chinese Army

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who may come to the U. S. soon to ask more war aid, has been China's top militarist since the middle 1920's. Against Japan, since that invader struck in 1931 and again in 1937, he played a give and retreat game, frequently striking back fiercely after China had the trained men and equipment to do so. General Chiang is ruthless against foes of the state, often blunt with conferees. Madame Chiang, herself now in the U. S. for medical treatment, influences him greatly and takes an active part in civil and military affairs. Chiang is 56, weighs 150 pounds, is 5 feet 10 inches tall, and is wiry and soldierly in bearing.

Oppose Cutting Relief Funds

Ex-Convict Held In Slaying Case

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 18.—(P)—The house of representatives $600,000 trimming from the direct relief appropriation drew sharp reprimands in a week end meeting of the Missouri Association for Social Welfare.

Testimony that relief rolls are only half as big as they were two years ago prompted the house appropriations committee to prune the six months fund from $1,500,000 to $900,000.

"The action of the house showed a serious lack of understanding of the general relief program in the state," said Benjamin E. Youngdahl, president of the association. "The people on general relief are the most defenseless and needy in the state. They must be taken care of."

He is the guest of his brothers, Emmet Sullivan, 1105 West Third street, Leo Sullivan, 1004 South Kentucky avenue, and sister, Mrs. James Tolen, 114 West Fourteenth street.

The United States consumed 8,993,099 cases of grapefruit juice during 1940.

Ex-Convict Held In Slaying Case

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 18.—(P)—Police held in custody today a Columbia man, an ex-convict, in connection with the slaying of William Laroe, 68, Boone county farmer.

Police Chief George Quinn and State Highway Patrolman J. T. Jones, called to the Laroe home Saturday night, found the elderly farmer's body, torn by a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun, in the back yard. The officers arrested a man they reported finding asleep in the Laroe home, a shotgun by his side.

Police said the man, recently released from federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., explained he argued with Laroe, then picked up the shotgun and fired as Laroe went for wood.

Prosecuting Attorney George Spencer said he intended to file charges.

Laroe was a widower with six adult children.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Maxwell D. Edgar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch C. Edgar, of Eldon, is at the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center, Texas, where he is starting his training for wings. Aviation Cadet Edgar, who is 27 years old, was aboard the U. S. S. Lexington when the carrier was searching for the missing Amelia Earhart in 1937.

LeRoy Fry, son of Mrs. J. C. Fry, 703 East Seventeenth street, left this morning for naval training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Pfc. Otho F. Beaudoin, of Detroit, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. August Klein, of West Fifth street, is now receiving treatment at the government hospital, Springfield, Mo., having been sent to this state after receiving treatment at Pearl Harbor, where he was stationed. His wife, the former Miss Margaret Klein, is in Detroit.

A Worry For The Axis

A total of 858 employees of the Katy Lines now are in the armed forces of the United States, according to the January issue of the M. K. & T. Employees' magazine.

There are two women students to every three men in U. S. colleges, universities and professional schools.

NOW...AS ALWAYS...MARVEL IS YOUR BEST BREAD BUY!

NOT ONLY DOES MARVEL CONTAIN THE MAXIMUM AMOUNTS OF SUGAR, SHORTENING AND MILK, AS SET BY YOUR GOVERNMENT—BUT IT'S THE ONLY NATIONALLY SOLD LOAF THAT GIVES YOU THESE PLUS ADVANTAGES:

1. Marvel "Enriched" Bread does not weigh merely 16, 18, or 20 ounces, but is a full 24-ounce (1 1/2-pound) loaf!
2. Marvel reaches you bakery fresh because it's the only nationally sold loaf that dares to print the "Date of Freshness" on the wrapper—your guarantee of absolute freshness!
3. Marvel has never cut quality to save money... that's why no other nationally sold bread uses finer, costlier flour!

Double-Your-Money-Back Guarantee

NOW, MORE THAN EVER BEFORE, MARVEL "ENRICHED" BREAD IS AMERICA'S GREATEST BREAD VALUE. IF YOU DON'T AGREE IT IS THE FINEST, FRESHEST LOAF YOU EVER TASTED, RETURN YOUR LOAF TO THE STORE OF PURCHASE AND GET DOUBLE-YOUR-MONEY-BACK.
